Clemson Defense Outstanding vs. Maryland

Clemson has a perfect 4-0 record against Maryland since Tommy West became the head coach in 1994. The record includes a 20-9 win at College Park last year. The Tigers have not lost to Maryland since 1992 when the Terps scored 53 in a 53-23 victory over Clemson.

When Clemson shut out Maryland three straight times between 1993-95, it was the first time since the 1959-62 era that Clemson recorded three straight shutouts against an ACC team. Clemson shutout N.C. State in 1959 by a 23-0 score, by 20-0 in 1961 and 7-0 in 1962. The two teams did not play in 1960. That is the only other time Clemson has shutout an ACC team three straight years.

Maryland ended a streak of four straight games without a touchdown against Clemson when Lamont Jordan scored on a four-yard run in the second period last year. It was the only touchdown in the game for Maryland, so the Terps have just one touchdown in the last five years against Clemson.

Obviously, defense has been the key in Clemson outscoring Maryland 85-12 in the Tommy West era. The Terps have averaged just 198 yards of total offense and 48 yards rushing per game over the last four years against Clemson. Clemson has averaged six sacks for -43 yards against the Terps over the last four meetings.

Clemson-Maryland Series Notes

*Clemson holds a 24-20-2 advantage in the series with Maryland, but Clemson has had to win 10 of the last 11 to take the lead. Maryland's only victory over Clemson since 1985 took place in 1992 at Maryland, 53-23. The Tigers won each of the last six games and eight of the last nine between the two teams at Death Valley. Maryland has not won at Clemson since 1985, by a 34-31 score.

*Clemson is 9-1 against Maryland over the last 10 years.

*Maryland has not scored a touchdown against Clemson in Death Valley since 1991, a 40-7 Clemson victory that clinched the Tigers last ACC championship. In fact, Maryland has scored just two touchdowns in Death Valley since 1988.

*Tommy West has a 4-0 advantage in the series with Maryland and Clemson had a 5-2-1 advantage against the Terps when West was an assistant coach at Clemson between 1982-89.

*Clemson has outscored Maryland 85-12 under West and 113-12 over the last five years, or since Maryland defeated Clemson 53-23 in 1992 in Byrd Stadium. Maryland won the first three games of the series (1952-54) by shutout, defeating Clemson by a combined 64-0. That is the only time Clemson has been shutout three years in a row by an ACC opponent.

Last Season

Raymond Priestler rushed for a season high 204 yards in 36 carries and scored two touchdowns to lead the Tigers to a 20-9 victory at Maryland last year at Byrd Stadium. The durable senior was at his best in the fourth quarter when he carried the ball 13 times for 92 yards. On Clemson's clinching touchdown drive, Priestler gained the last 81 yards of the drive on nine consecutive carries.

Anthony Simmons and Adrian Dingle led the defense. Simmons had 19 tackles and was named ACC Player of the Week, while Dingle had three sacks to tie a Clemson single game record. Freshman Robert Carswell, making his first career start, had 11 tackles and three passes broken up. Clemson had just 43 yards passing, but held the Terps to 70 yards rushing in 38 attempts.

Terps Update

Maryland enters today's game with a 2-3 record, but all three losses have been to teams in the top 20 in the nation. Maryland has wins over James Madison (23-15) and Temple (30-20) and losses to Virginia (31-19), West Virginia (42-20) and Florida State (24-10). The Florida State game shows how much Maryland has improved this year. The Seminoles, who scored 50 against Maryland in 1997, scored just one offensive touchdown last Saturday.

Maryland is coached by Ron Vanderlinden, a native of Livonia, Michigan who is in his second year leading the Terps. A two-sport player at Albion College, Vanderlinden gained significant experience as an assistant under Bill McCartney at Colorado from 1983-91 and under Gary Barnett at Northwestern from 1992-96. Both programs made historical gains during Vanderlinden's career. He was an assistant on Colorado's National Championship team of 1990 and on Northwestern's Big Ten Champions of 1995.

The leaders of the Maryland defense are linebackers Eric Barton and Kendall Ogle, both preseason Butkus Award candidates. Both players average double figures in terms of tackles per game and are among the ACC leaders in that category. They finished second and third in the ACC in tackles, respectively, behind Clemson's Anthony Simmons last season. The linebacker duo is a big reason Maryland is fourth in the ACC in total defense and fourth in rushing defense. Both players had double figure tackle games in nine of the 11 contests last year. Ogle had a career high 17 tackles against Clemson in 1997.

Offensively, Maryland has gained 773 yards rushing and 627 passing so far this season. Ken Mastrole is the passing leader. He has completed 38-77 passes for 474 yards and one touchdown. His favorite receiver is Jermaine Arrington, who has 14 receptions for 199 yards. Moises Cruz is second on the club in that category with 10-110. Lamont Jordan is the top rusher with 276 yards in 64 attempts and two touchdowns. Jordan was the top freshman rusher in the ACC last year with 689 yards, and he also led all rookies in all-purpose running with 920 yards. Matt Kalapinski has 258 receiving yards and a team best three touchdowns, while Harold Westley has 196 yards in 55 attempts.

Maryland has an outstanding kicking duo in Brian Kopka and Russ Edwards. Kopka, whose brother Kevin was a placekicker at Notre Dame two years ago, is in the top five in the nation in field goals with 11-13, while Edwards, in his third year as the Terps number-one punter, has a 40.7 average on 26 punts.

Zachery Top Rusher

Clemson has not had a single yard offensively this year, rushing, receiving or passing by a senior. Tommy West was the only coach in the nation who had to replace his school's all-time leading rusher (Raymond Priestler), all-time leading passer and total offense leader (Nealson Greene) and single season reception record holder (Tony Horne).

Replacing Priestler and his 18 Clemson records was no easy task. Travis Zachery has been Clemson's top rusher. The red-shirt freshman had 46 yards rushing at North Carolina, more than the entire North Carolina team had against Clemson's defense, and now has 219 yards rushing for the season. He is attempting to become the first freshman to lead Clemson in rushing since 1994 when Lamont Pegues led the Tigers with 390. Zachery is trying to become the first freshman to break the 500-yard rushing mark since Ronald Williams had 941 in 1990. Zachery also has seven receptions for 63 yards, including a spectacular 28-yarder in the fourth period at North Carolina.

Terry Witherspoon has run well of late. He leads the team in touchdowns with three and his blocking has been much improved this season. Javis Austin is second on the team in receptions with 11 and is more than half way to the Clemson record for receptions by a running back in a season. Ray Yaeger holds the mark with 21 in 1969.

Brandon Streeter has been Clemson's top quarterback this season. Against North Carolina he connected on 5-9 passes for 93 yards and took Clemson to 112 yards of total offense over the last nine minutes of the game. He had the Clemson offense knocking on the touchdown door twice inside the last five minutes. Streeter has thrown for 806 yards this year, including 319 against Wake Forest, the second highest single game total in Clemson history. He has completed 51 percent of his passes and has averaged 7.9 yards per attempt.

The top receiver for Clemson has been Mal Lawyer, a junior from Moncks Corner, SC. Lawyer has 13 for 234 yards, a solid 18-yard

Fullback Terry Witherspoon leads Clemson's offense with three touchdowns this season.

The play of inside linebacker O.J. Childress is one of the reasons Clemson is first in the ACC in rushing defense and sacks.

average. Fellow starter and classmate Brian Wofford has six catches, but for 157 yards, a 26.2 average and two touchdowns. Marcus Martin (129) and Rod Gardner (145) are two more receivers over the 100-yard mark in terms of reception yardage.

Antwan Edwards Leads Secondary

Senior defensive back Antwan Edwards had another standout performance in Clemson's loss at North Carolina. The native of Mississippi had three passes broken up, eight tackles and a diving interception. His interception took place at the Clemson five-yard-line and two of the three pass deflections were touchdown savers. In addition to his defensive efforts, Edwards contributed on the special teams with a 22-yard punt return and two kickoff returns for 40 yards. He now has three defensive takeaways to lead the team.

Edwards leads the Clemson team in all-purpose running with 344 yards in five games. Edwards has achieved these numbers by touching the ball just 14 times, and that computes to 24.6 yards every time he touches the ball. All-purpose rushing does not include fumble returns according to NCAA statistical rules. When you add in Edwards two fumble returns for 104 yards, Edwards has 448 yards on 16 touches, 28 yards per attempt.

Edwards ranks in the Top 20 nationally in kickoff returns and punt returns. There is no category for fumble returns, but he would be among the best in that area also.

Edwards has seven passes broken up to rank among the ACC leaders, and he now has 28 PBUs for his career. He is now tied for sixth in Clemson history in career passes broken up with Dexter McCleon, now with the St. Louis Rams. Edwards realistically can reach second or third in Clemson history in this area. The record is 44 by Donnell Woolford, a first-team All-American for the Tigers in 1987-88. Edwards is on pace to equal the Clemson single season record for passes broken up. The record is 15. Edwards is one of the co-holders of the mark, as he had 15 last year. Donnell Woolford did it twice, Ty Davis did it once and Delton Hall did it once.

Dingle Chasing History

Clemson defensive end Adrian Dingle has six sacks in the first five games of the season. He is on pace to break one of Clemson's top single season record, especially in terms of defense. The senior from Holly Hill, SC needs just five sacks over the remainder of the season to break the existing single season sack record. Dingle is chasing three players, William Perry, Michael Dean Perry and Jim Stuckey. All three played at least seven years in the NFL.

Stuckey had 10 sacks in 1979, his senior year. William Perry equalled the record with 10 sacks in 1984, his senior year, while Michael Dean Perry had 10 sacks in 1987, also his senior season. Now Dingle is trying to break the mark in his final season. Dingle is the co-leader in the ACC in sacks so far this season. He also has eight tackles for loss this season to rank among the ACC leaders.

He will try to enhance his total against Maryland, a team he had three sacks against last year. Those sacks led to 25 negative yards on the Maryland stat sheet.

Dingle is now tied for seventh in Clemson history in sacks with 18.5. Ironically, he is tied with former teammate and classmate Anthony Simmons, now with the Seattle Seahawks. He is also ninth in Clemson history in career tackles for loss with 38. He needs just two tackles for loss against Maryland to go ahead of former Clemson star Chester McGlockton, a four-time Pro Bowl player, and three tackles for loss to move ahead of Levon Kirkland, a two-time Pro Bowl player and currently one of the top linebackers in the NFL with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Dingle has battled a knee injury all year and has 20 tackles for the season. He has had the six sacks despite playing just 40 snaps per game. He also has a team best 12 quarterback pressures (including five at North Carolina), two fumble recoveries and a caused fumble to go with his other defensive numbers.

Eight TDs for Active Defensive Players

Clemson's defense recorded its third touchdown of the season at North Carolina. Cornerback Alex Ardley became the fifth active Tiger to score a touchdown in his career when he raced 26 yards with a tipped pass for a touchdown in the first half. The ball was tipped by Chris Jones, who himself scored a touchdown this year against Furman.

Clemson has had a big play defense this year. In addition to Jones fumble recovery against Furman for a score and Ardley's touchdown return against North Carolina, Antwan Edwards scored a touchdown on a fumble return against Virginia. That 93-yard score was the longest fumble return in Clemson history.

The touchdown by Ardley was the 13th scored by the Tiger defense since Tommy West became the head coach in 1994. Clemson has had six fumble returns for touchdown, five interceptions for touchdown and a pair of blocked punts for score under West. Five different active players have scored a total of eight touchdowns.

Rahim Abdullah has three touchdowns in his career, one against NC State in 1996 on a fumble ble return, one against NC State in 1997 on a fumble return and an interception return for a score against Duke in 1997. Edwards had an interception return for a score against South Carolina last year, while Chad Speck had a touchdown in a blocked punt return against Auburn in last year's Peach Bowl.

Homecoming Success

Today against Maryland, Clemson will attempt to enhance an impressive Homecoming record. The Tigers have a 23-2-2 record on Homecoming since the 1970 season. The only Homecoming losses since 1970 have been against Georgia Tech in 1989 and against Virginia in 1997. Overall, Clemson has a 53-18-3 record on Homecoming dating to 1922 when Clemson played Centre on Homecoming.

This is the first time Clemson has played Maryland on Homecoming since 1967. That day, Clemson downed the Terps, 28-7. Clemson has a 3-2 record against Maryland on Homecoming. The first time the two teams met on Homecoming was in 1955, a 25-12 Maryland victory. The Terps came into that game ranked number-two in the country.

Jones top Tackler

One of the success stories of the Clemson defense this year has been the play of senior linebacker Chris Jones. The native of Georgia is Clemson's top tackler this year with 64, an average of 12.8 per game, among the top five averages in the ACC. Jones has led Clemson in tackles in four of the first five games, including 11 to pace the Tigers against North Carolina in Clemson's most recent contest. He was a key reason North Carolina had just 45 yards rushing.

Bill and Bob Peeler for Peeler's Milk. The Milk of Choice for Clemson Tiger Fans.

Holland Postell

by Brian Hennessy

Late in the fourth quarter, Clemson is driving and in control of the line of scrimmage. Muscle meets mass and the opponent is driven backwards. The defense is worn out. The Tiger back plows through the open hole and in for six. Clemson takes a commanding 11 point lead on its way to victory. This is the story of Clemson's 11-play, 94-yard drive to seal the Tigers' victory at Maryland in 1997, in which all 94 yards came on the ground and 83 came by Raymond Priester. This is football at its finest according to Tiger senior offensive tackle Holland Postell.

Postell, 6'-6" and 293 pounds, is the senior statesman of the Clemson offensive line in '98. Today he will start his 30th consecutive game at tackle, more than any other Tiger, and his 1,598 career snaps entering this season is also a team-best. But when Postell talks about leadership, he states that he's not the vocal kind of leader, rather one of leading by example.

"I don't try to be a coach on the field," states Postell. "That's not me. It's a role you naturally have or don't have. But being out there every snap giving it my all is how I hope I can show others how it's done. I've been in almost every situation, including the big wins and losing terribly. You don't know how to react until you've been in those situations.

"When I came to Clemson as a freshman, I admit, I was pretty confident in my abilities. I found out quick what it was like when I got my behind ran all over. It was frustrating, but it has paid off now. There are some people who would accept not being good enough to play on this level and others who are willing to work their tails off. I chose the latter. I hated to sit in my dorm as a true freshman and watch my teammates play on the road. That ate me alive, but at the same time motivated me."

Some of the highlights of Postell's first three seasons include the convincing 47-21 win over arch-rival South Carolina in Columbia in '97. But more than highlights is his theme of consistency. Postell led the team in snaps in '97 with 796. His solid run-blocking and pass protection also enabled Nealon Greene, Tony Horne, and Raymond Priester to set 57 school records in their careers.

"Holland came into the program as one of the most highly recruited players we signed," says Head Coach Tommy West, who recruited Postell in his first class of signees. "He's been everything we thought he'd be. He's been a starter for the past two seasons, he's an All-ACC player, and an All-American candidate. Holland's been the anchor on the line for us for a long time."

But Postell almost never made it to Tigertown in the first place. Thanks to some irony and luck, he did. "I grew up following Clemson, but I wouldn't say I was a die-hard fan. So my options were open when I started to get recruited in high school. Coach (Les) Herrin recruited me for Clemson, Coach (Ellis) Johnson recruited me for Alabama, and Coach (Miles) Aldridge recruited me for South Carolina. They all ended up at Clemson during my senior year, so the decision was much easier.

"From the beginning, Coach West was honest and up front with me. He told me that I had a chance to play early if I worked at it. He was the only coach who was that straightforward with me and I respected that."

Postell attended Summerville High School in the lowcountry, where he was coached by the legendary John McKissick, who just happens to have more career wins than any other coach in the history of high school football. Postell is one of just two players in the school's history to start for four straight seasons, quite an accomplishment for a player at a school that has won countless state championships. "Playing for Coach McKissick gave me an opportunity to grow up," recalls Postell. "We were at a different level at Summerville as far as the weight room and coaching. Coach McKissick also had great assistant coaches. I was very fortunate to have the chance to play for one of the all-time great coaches. I'll always admire him!"

Even though he was one of the top linemen in the country, he also excelled in other sports. Postell played basketball for three seasons, and threw the shot and discus. His strength was evident when he won the state in the discus in his senior season.

Postell credits his parents for their undying support and enthusiasm towards his career. "My mom (Pat) and dad (Marvin) have always been there to watch me play, even here at Clemson," says Postell. "They drive to all the road games and have only missed two games throughout my high school and college career. I couldn't ask for better parents!"

"My dad is definitely the source of my work habits. He is also where I got my height. He is 6'-7" and works as a conductor for CSX Railroad. He would work seven days a week and never take a day off to make ends meet.

"There was a time in seventh grade when I made the junior varsity football team, which was unheard of for my age in Summerville. I wanted to quit so bad because there were sophomores on the team who wanted me to quit. But my mom told me to stay with it until the season started, then see what happened. I can never thank her enough for guiding me through that time.

"I can also remember my brother, Marty, who is 29, and I playing football in the yard. He was a role model for me, being that he was seven years older than me. He wasn't nearly as big as me, but he did play football, so I wanted to do what he did.

"I also want to thank one of my best friends in college, Chris Robbins, who played here a few years ago. We've had two different careers, but he's one of those people you can tell anything to. Leslie King, my girlfriend, is very special to me as well."

Now that Postell has endured the trials and tribulations of a college football career, he is ready for the challenges ahead, including a possible professional football career. "All I can do is put myself in the best position to make it. If I don't get there, then it wasn't meant to be. I won't sit around and think about it forever. I plan to graduate in the spring with a sports management degree. So I definitely want to stay around sports. I obtained a lot of experience when I interned in the athletic department this past summer. I could see myself being a manager of a sports facility or working in promotions."

No matter what Postell does in the future, thanks to his fourth quarter attitude, there is no doubt he will reach his goals.

Brent Banasiewicz

by Brett Sowell

Football practices can be some of the most grueling practices in all of sport. Especially in Clemson during the "dog days" of August when the thermometer is approaching 100 degrees and the humidity makes the heat index soar. As if the heat, the physical contact and running weren't hard enough, imagine going through this with two bad knees.

Offensive guard Brent Banasiewicz faces this during every Clemson practice and game. The Monticello, FL native earned his degree in Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management in May of this year and could have easily ended his football career then. Despite facing excruciating pain every time he steps on the field he choose to come back as Clemson's only graduate student on the roster.

"Both of my knees hurt every time I go out there. After every practice I ice both knees down for 30-45 minutes until they feel numb to keep the swelling down. I also take pain killers to help ease the pain," says Banasiewicz.

Banasiewicz first started playing football in the seventh grade and before Clemson never suffered a major injury. Amazingly his high school days went without injury even though his team at Aucilla Christian only dressed 18 players his senior year. That fact forced Banasiewicz to play both sides of the ball and special teams, thus seeing action basically every play.

As a recruit, he came to Clemson and was escorted around by then Clemson player and current graduate assistant coach Will Young. Banasiewicz liked the people he met and the small town charm that he found in Clemson. During his visit he made his commitment to the Tigers.

"I liked Clemson because of its size. I am from a very small town. Clemson isn't big enough to walk across campus and not see anybody you know. I like that."

After red-shirting his freshman season in 1994, Banasiewicz headed into the following spring practice with aspirations of earning a starting assignment. Unfortunately those hopes were dashed when the first of his two knee injuries occurred.

"Coming in, I guess I was like any other freshman. You have high expectations and you hope to earn a starting spot. When the first injury occurred, I didn't really think it was that serious of an injury until they told me I had to have surgery. It took pretty much the whole summer to come back. I was ready to go a few weeks before the 1995 fall camp, but I felt the injury set me back going into that season," said Banasiewicz.

After preparing his knee for play again, Banasiewicz would eventually see action in 29 snaps during the 1995 season and 30 snaps in the 1996 campaign. In '96, Banasiewicz played in 11 games and saw considerable action on the Tigers' special teams.

Before the 1997 season could get under way, Banasiewicz injured his other knee.

"It was our final scrimmage of the pre-season, a running play behind me," Banasiewicz recalls. "The play was actually over, but somebody dove over the pile and took me out. I had to have surgery to keep the kneecap from dislocating."

Fortunately this injury was not as bad as his first and the time it took him to return was significantly less. Before realizing this however, Banasiewicz began to doubt if he wanted to even come back.

"For a little while last season I thought about not coming back because I figured it would take me a long time. Those thoughts were based on the time it took me to come back from the first injury. I thought to myself, there is just no way. Luckily I was able to come back and play on it. Once I was able to play on it, I told myself I would come back because in the spring I knew I would be starting."

He did comeback and saw the first action of the '97 season at Wake Forest as he participated in 12 plays and was a part of eight snaps in Clemson's 47-21 win at South Carolina.

During the tough times of the two injuries Banasiewicz had his parents there to give him encouragement and guidance. "My parents were both really supportive. My mom told me that what was happening was all in God's will. 'He is going to do what is best for you,' she said. That helped a lot just knowing that it wasn't just out of the blue. God did have a plan. I guess this has been God's way of telling me that there are bigger things than football out there. Being hurt was his way of showing me that."

Another source of inspiration for coming back came from his teammates on the offensive line. A desire to play one more year with some of his good friends helped make his decision.

"The guys that I play with up front are all pretty much best friends. Three of us came in together, Matt Butler, Holland Postell and myself. We have been through a lot together and my decision to come back had a lot to do with them. I did not want to let them down. I wanted to finish out my career with those guys."

"You can have friends outside of football, but it is different. Inside the sport, all of us have been there and been through so much together. It is just some kind of bond between us. You know you can count on those guys being there for you."

This past off season Banasiewicz took his off the field conditioning to another level. Hoping to offset his inexperience on the field, he looked to move ahead of the game physically in the weight room. Before the season began, Banasiewicz ranked among the top-10 on the team in several weight lifting categories, including second in the squat (593 pounds) and in the clean (355 pounds). "I'm stronger than I've ever been, even my legs are stronger in spite of the knees."

Now after four years in waiting, Banasiewicz is finally at the position he set out to be. A starting offensive lineman for a major college football team. He has started all five games this season for the Tigers and been in for at least 35 snaps every game. "It has been just a dream come true to start for a major college. Being a starter this year is one of the reasons I came back. I have been thrilled at the prospect of playing a lot this year. Coming in I wanted people to count on me to get the job done. This is what I've been working for the last four years."

It is only natural for Banasiewicz to think about the possibility of getting hurt again. The pain in his knees is always there to remind him of what can happen at any time while he is on the field. Admitting that he has those thoughts in the back of his mind, Banasiewicz has his own perspective of how to overcome them.

"During the Wake Forest game a guy rolled into me and I felt my knee give a little bit. It scares me some, but if you play timid you are going to get hurt," explains Banasiewicz. "You just have to brush that off and keep going."

Just as the "dog days" of August have past, hopefully the "dog days" of Banasiewicz's career are behind him as well and he can concentrate on what he initially set out to do at Clemson. Play football.

President Dr. Deno Curris

Constantine W. "Deno" Curris began his fourth year at the helm of Clemson University with a heightened sense of optimism and determination - and for good reason. Not only had he won a personal battle against cancer; he also had succeeded in building consensus among faculty, staff, students, and trustees about the University's direction for the future.

That direction is spelled out in a new mission statement and a set of implementing concepts adopted by the Board of Trustees at Curris' request earlier this year. The president's personal contribution was a statement of Clemson's vision: To be the nation's premier land-grant university.

No small order, but Curris believes the faculty, staff, students, alumni, and friends are up to the task. Speaking at the spring general faculty meeting, Curris outlined areas where Clemson needs to excel in order to achieve its potential. He challenged the University to:

- Increase access to Clemson without compromising academic standards, working to raise achievement at the middle and high school levels;
- Provide an educational experience second to none, bridging the gap between research and teaching;
- Create a distinctive core curriculum built around liberal arts and sciences, and emphasizing communication ability, critical thinking, ethical judgment, global awareness, scientific knowledge, and technological understanding;

- Expand research activity, particularly in areas where the University can achieve national and international distinction.

"Clemson's size and its rich tradition of faculty-student interaction give us decided advantage to become the nation's premier land-grant university," he said. "We have never embraced the concept of feedlot education, and we have benefited from a physical setting that permits the reinforcement of the curricular by the co-curricular. If there is a will to be the best, we can be."

Curris is not one to shrink from difficult challenges. After successful tenures as president at two other universities - Murray State in Kentucky and Northern Iowa - Curris quickly began to make his mark at Clemson. Progress has been made during his administration on a number of fronts: Expanding the University's information technology infrastructure, enhancing the sense of community and appreciation for traditions that add to the Clemson experience, and involving more alumni and friends in the life of the University through initiatives such as the Commission on the Future of Clemson University - a comprehensive advisory group involving more than 200 leaders in business and the professions.

A native of Lexington, Kentucky, Curris received a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Kentucky, a master's in political science and public administration from the University of Illinois, and a doctorate in higher education from the University of Kentucky.

Curris is also a national leader in higher education. He is a past Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and was a featured participant in a 1997 national video teleconference on "The New Public University: How Do We Compete in a Changing Environment?" Curris is also one of 25 presidents currently serving on the national Kellogg Commission on the Future of Land-Grant Universities and is South Carolina's representative on the Commission on the Future of the South.

When his schedule permits, Curris enjoys gardening, fishing, and reading. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney and author, and they have a son, Robert Alexander, and a daughter, Elena Diane.

Head Coach Tommy West

Tommy West's Clemson resume as a head coach includes four bowl appearances, a top 25 ranking in every season, 12 road wins and four wins over AP Top 25 teams. The 1998 Peach Bowl was Clemson's third straight year in a bowl game, something only 16 other programs can claim. This is the first time since the 1985-91 era, that Clemson has been to a bowl game three straight years and he is just the second Clemson coach in history to take the Tigers to three consecutive bowl games.

Each of his first four seasons has seen the Tigers make a late season run. In 1994, with the youngest offense in Clemson history, one that started seven freshmen at times, the Tigers won three of their last four games, including a victory at 12th ranked North Carolina.

The run of success at the end of the 1995 season had the Tigers in the top 25 of every poll. Clemson won its last five regular season games, including four wins by at least 17 points. West's Tigers were picked fifth in the ACC preseason poll that year, but, thanks to the third best offense in Clemson history and a defense that ranked 10th in the nation in scoring, Clemson finished third in the ACC standings with a 6-2 record, its best league finish since the Tigers won the ACC title in 1991.

The 1995 campaign was one in which Clemson excelled in every area. The Tigers ranked fourth in the country in rushing, yet also led the ACC in yards per pass attempt. Defensively, Clemson rated in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense, passing efficiency defense and turnover margin. In terms of special teams, Clemson was the only school in the nation to have an individual ranked in the top 25 in punting, placekicking, punt returns and kickoff returns.

The 1996 season saw Clemson win five of its last six regular season games, including a victory at 15th ranked Virginia, just the third road win over a ranked team in the decade of the 1990s for the Tigers. For the second straight year Clemson won the ACC rushing title and reached a top 25 ranking. Again, Clemson won 75 percent of its ACC games, this time finishing tied for second in the league standings with North Carolina. The Tigers were extended a bid to the Peach Bowl to face LSU.

Last season the Tigers won four of their last five regular season games, including a 47-21 victory over South Carolina in the season finale that clinched a bowl bid.

The season featured a record setting passing attack, led by Nealon Greene, who set season records for pass completions, passing yards and completion percentage. The defense followed suit, led by first-team AP All-American Anthony Simmons, who led the conference in tackles and tackles for loss. Clemson's defense ranked in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense, total defense and scoring defense and ranked third in the ACC in pass defense.

Clemson's improvement on the field is matched with its improvement in the classroom during the West era. In 1996-97, 20 Clemson football players made the ACC academic honor roll, the highest on record. In fact, each of the three highest totals in that area in Clemson history have taken place under West and the team's cumulative GPA entering 1998 is a 20-year high.

West took over the head coaching position on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph over Kentucky in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl win in an eight-year period. With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89. During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1994. The list of former West players in the NFL includes Levon Kirkland and Wayne Simmons, both of whom have played in the Super Bowl in recent years.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in the final Top 20 poll in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year. West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a second-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team. Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner.

The West Family

Assistant Coaches

LES HERRIN

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Line

Les Herrin is the dean of football coaches at Clemson. The assistant head coach is in his 14th season with the Tigers. In addition to his administrative duties as assistant head coach, he is the Clemson defensive line coach. Herrin has been a defensive coach at Clemson for all but one of his seasons and has coached such notable players as Chester McGlockton, Brentson Buckner, Jeff Davis and Trevor Pryce.

The 50-year old native of Waycross, GA, is the only member of the current staff who was on Clemson's 1981 National Championship coaching staff. That season Herrin coached linebacker Jeff Davis who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and is a member of Clemson's prestigious Ring of Honor.

In 1982, Johnny Rembert was a starting linebacker under Herrin and he became an All-American, then a Pro Bowl player (1989) with the New England Patriots. Three-time Pro Bowl defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, regarded as one of the top defensive players in the NFL today, was coached by Herrin between 1989-91.

Brentson Buckner, a 1996 Super Bowl participant with the Pittsburgh Steelers, who is now with the San Francisco 49ers, also played for Herrin during that era. Last year as a rookie, Trevor Pryce was a member of the Denver Broncos Super Bowl Championship team. Under Herrin's tutelage at Clemson, Pryce led the Tigers in tackles for loss and sacks in 1996.

In his previous 13 seasons with Clemson, Herrin has coached in eight bowl games, been a part of six top 20 seasons and four ACC titles. Clemson has had at least one all-conference player coached by Herrin in 12 of the 13 years he has been with the program.

Herrin and his wife Shirley have a son, Deke, who is currently a student at Clemson and a member of the football team.

STEVE ENSMINGER

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Steve Ensminger enters his second season as Clemson's offensive coordinator. In his first year, Ensminger directed the Tiger offense in establishing 15 school single season records in the passing game on a team and individual basis, included in the marks were school bests for passing yardage, completion percentage, and completions.

Nealon Greene ranked 19th in the nation in passing efficiency, highest ranking by a Clemson player in 14 years.

Ensminger came to Clemson after a three-year stint at Texas A&M and is now in his 11th year as an offensive coordinator.

While at Texas A&M, his Aggie offense averaged 404 yards per game in 1996 and it featured a balanced attack of 230 yards rushing and 174 passing.

Ensminger is a native of Baton Rouge, LA and played for hometown LSU from 1976-79 as quarterback where he lettered all four years. He was the MVP of the LSU team in 1979 and still holds two LSU passing records: most touchdowns in a game (4) and longest touchdown pass play (82 yards).

The 39-year-old has coached at Nicholls State (Wide Receivers, 1981-83), McNeese State (Quarterbacks/Wide Receivers, 1984-87), Louisiana Tech (Offensive Coordinator, 1988-90), Georgia (passing game Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1991-93), and Texas A&M (Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1994-96).

Ensminger was a significant reason Georgia quarterback Eric Zeier set 61 school and 11 SEC passing records between 1991-93. Georgia ranked ninth in the nation in total offense in 1992 with a 450.4 yards per game average. The team was 10th in the country in scoring with 32 points per game.

Ensminger is married to the former Amy Marie Gonzales and they have three children: Krystalin, Steve, and Brittany Rose.

REGGIE HERRING

Defensive Coord./Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring enters the 1998 season, his fifth at Clemson, as the inside linebackers coach and is in his second year performing the duties of defensive coordinator.

In his first year as Clemson defensive coordinator the Tigers ranked 16th in the nation in total defense, sixth in rushing defense and 18th in scoring defense. Herring coached Anthony Simmons each of the last three seasons at Clemson. Simmons, a three-time All-American, was a first-round pick of the Seattle Seahawks in the 1998 NFL draft.

Herring himself was an outstanding player during his days as a linebacker at Florida State. He graduated from Florida State with a B.S. in criminology in 1981, but before graduating he was a three-year starter for the Seminoles and was voted an AP All-American in 1980. Florida State posted a 38-6 record in his four years and made three bowl trips. He played on three Seminole teams that finished the season with a top 15 AP ranking, including a number-six finish in 1979 and a number-five finish in 1980. Those were the first two top 10 finishes in the Bobby Bowden era at FSU.

Herring was inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame in 1989. He combined with current Clemson wide receivers coach Rick Stockstill to lead the Seminoles to the 1981 Orange Bowl, a narrow defeat against Oklahoma. Herring also displayed leadership skills during his playing days as he served as the team captain in 1980.

As a coach, Herring has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson.

Since 1977, Herring has participated in college football as either a player or a coach. Since that year he has been a part of 16 bowl teams, three as a player and 13 as a coach, including four bowl games for the Tigers, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, the 1996 and 1998 Peach.

Herring is married to the former Lisa Ward of Griffin, GA. The couple has one daughter Caroline, and one son, Adam.

DAVID BIBEE
Defensive Backs

David Bibee is in his second year at Clemson, and is coaching his second different position. This season Bibee takes over the secondary, perhaps the most talented area on the Clemson team with preseason All-American Antwan Edwards. Bibee is no stranger to the secondary as he has coached that aspect of the defense at six different schools during his career.

Last year he coached Clemson outside linebackers, a group that helped the Tigers rank sixth in the nation in rushing defense and 16th in total defense.

The 1998 season marks Bibee's 19th year of coaching college football. He has 11 years experience as an assistant head coach.

Bibee played football at Tennessee and was a member of the 1973 Gator Bowl and 1974 Liberty Bowl teams. During two of his playing seasons he was a teammate of Tiger Head Coach Tommy West. He earned a B.S. in Health Education from Tennessee in 1977.

He began his coaching career with the Volunteers as a graduate assistant coach in 1976. He then spent the 1977 season at his prep alma mater, Bristol's Tennessee High School, before moving on to Mississippi for one campaign as co-head coach of the junior varsity squad in 1978. Following his stay at Mississippi, Bibee had coaching stints at North Alabama, Middle Tennessee State, Austin Peay, Appalachian State and South Carolina.

During his six years at Appalachian State, the Mountaineers won two Southern Conference championships and twice led the nation in turnover margin.

Bibee left Appalachian State in 1989 to become assistant head coach and secondary coach at South Carolina. After the 1993 season, he went into private business before returning to college football as Tennessee Tech's secondary coach and recruiting coordinator in 1996.

A native of Bristol, TN, Bibee is married to the former Lisa Carter. The couple has three daughters, twins, Ashlee and Allison, and Lindsay.

RICH BISACCIA
Running Backs

Clemson has been on a record pace in terms of rushing offense since Rich Bisaccia came to Clemson in December of 1993. Each of the last three years Clemson has finished first or second in the ACC in rushing, including a number-four national finish in 1995 when Clemson averaged 260 yards per game.

Under Bisaccia, tailback Raymond Priester set the Clemson all-time records for single game rushing yards, 263, rushing yards in a season, 1,345, and most rushing yards in a career with 3,966. He was the ACC rushing champion in 1995. In all, Priester established 18 Clemson rushing records during his career under Bisaccia.

Bisaccia wears many hats at Clemson as he also handles the special teams and serves as the recruiting coordinator. His special teams unit was the only one in the nation to have an individual rank in the top 25 in field goals, punting, punt returns, and kickoff returns in 1995.

A year ago Clemson ranked 15th in the nation in kickoff returns and 39th in punt returns. The Tigers had three blocked punts in the Peach Bowl to set a school record. Clemson also led the ACC in field goals (20-27) in 1997.

Bisaccia graduated from New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT. He earned his degree in health and physical education from Yankton College in 1983. While at Yankton College, Bisaccia was a four-year starter and the team captain from 1979-82. The Philadelphia Stars of the USFL signed him as a free agent in 1983.

Bisaccia's first coaching job was as the offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) in 1983. After five years at Wayne State, he moved to South Carolina for a six-year career. In 1989, Bisaccia became the volunteer assistant coach for defensive ends at South Carolina. In 1991, he was named the tight ends coach, then was promoted to running backs coach and special teams coach at South Carolina in 1992. He held that role for the 1992 and 1993 seasons. Clemson came calling in December of 1993 and named Bisaccia as its running backs coach, and in charge of special teams and the recruiting process.

Bisaccia married the former Jeanne Jones. The native of Yonkers, NY and his wife have four children: Michele, Elizabeth, Madeline, and Richard Oakley.

BRICK HALEY
Outside Linebackers

Andrea "Brick" Haley takes over the outside linebacker coaching duties in his first season with the Tiger program.

Haley will coach perhaps the most famous position in contemporary Clemson football history. The Tigers have had many outside linebackers move on to the NFL in the decade of the 1990s, including Levon Kirkland an All-Pro for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Wayne Simmons, a starter for the Green Bay Packers 1996 Super Bowl Champions.

Haley himself has a history of recruiting and coaching players who have gone on to the NFL. The list of players Haley has coached include Jeff Gooch, a starter with the Tampa Bay Bucs in 1997, and Pratt Lyons, a starter with the Tennessee Oilers. Reggie Lowe, who signed with the Seattle Seahawks out of Troy State, and Donnell Gilyard, who played with the New York Giants are two more Haley protégés. Michael Swift of the Carolina Panthers, and Kurt Pointer of the Pittsburgh Steelers were both recruited to Austin Peay by Haley.

Haley, a native of Gadsden, AL, attended Alabama A&M. He graduated from A&M in 1989 after playing for the Bulldogs for four seasons. There he was a Division II All-America inside linebacker in 1987 and 1988. Haley earned a bachelor of science in health and physical education with a minor in telecommunication.

His coaching career began in 1989 when he was a student assistant coach at Alabama A&M. The next year, he coached tight ends and coordinated the punt and punt return teams at Enterprise High School in Enterprise, AL.

In 1991, he began his four-year stay at Austin Peay State. After three years with the Troy State program, Haley served as outside linebackers coach at Houston in 1997 before arriving in Tigertown.

Haley, a native of Gadsden, AL, is married to the former Tina Delaine of Clayton, NC.

JOHN LATINA
Centers and Guards

John Latina is in his fifth season at Clemson, as the offensive centers and guards coach. Since taking over the most inexperienced offensive line in Clemson history in 1994, the unit has steadily improved and helped rewrite many of Clemson's individual and team offensive records.

The 1997 line was an integral part of a Clemson team that established six team records in offensive categories. Each of the last three years Clemson has been first or second in the ACC in rushing and Latina's line is a big reason Raymond Priester set the Clemson career rushing record in just three seasons.

Latina received four letters as an offensive lineman at Virginia Tech from 1975-78 and played in Death Valley for the Hokies in 1978. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1979.

Latina's coaching career began immediately after his playing days were over. In 1979, he was an assistant coach at his alma mater in Blacksburg. He then moved to Pittsburgh for the 1982 season where he worked with an outstanding Panther team quarterbacked by Dan Marino.

In 1983, Latina was named as the offensive line coach at Temple. Following his stay at Temple, Latina went out west to Manhattan, KS, to coach Kansas State. His offensive line helped to lead the Wildcats in 1993 to the Big Eight title in passing, averaging 245 yards per game. In 1991, Kansas State set a school record with 4,231 yards in total offense, including 1,756 yards rushing, the most by a Kansas State team in 10 years.

Latina arrived at Clemson as the offensive line coach in December of 1993. He has already coached the Tigers in four bowl games, the 1993 Peach, the 1996 Gator, the 1996 and 1998 Peach Bowl.

Latina and his wife, the former Michele Veltre, have two sons John Jr. and Michael.

MAC McWHORTER
Tight Ends and Tackles

Mac McWhorter enters his third year at Clemson as the offensive tackles and tight ends coach. McWhorter, 48, and a native of Atlanta, GA, shares the duties of the offensive line with coach John Latina. McWhorter deserves much of the credit for Jim Bundren's 1997 All-America season.

Bundren was a two-time All-ACC choice on the field and in the classroom under McWhorter. The Tigers led the ACC in rushing in 1996 and ranked second in 1997 and McWhorter's work with the line had much to do with an offense that showed steady improvement.

McWhorter spent five years as the offensive line coach at Georgia before coming to Clemson. During his five years in Athens the Bulldogs set school records in many categories including a record 25 touchdown passes and 5,135 yards of total offense in 1994.

He was a three-year letter-winner at Georgia as an offensive player. As a player, McWhorter had success both on and off the field, as he was an All-Academic Southeastern Conference performer in 1972 and 1973 and owned the highest grade point average on the Georgia football team in 1973.

McWhorter began his coaching career as an assistant coach on the high school level. He was the head coach at Villa Rica High in Georgia in 1979, where he was named Carroll County Coach-of-the Year.

McWhorter jumped to the college ranks in 1980, when he was named to the Georgia Tech coaching staff. Since joining the college coaching profession at Georgia Tech, he has had coaching stints at Alabama, West Georgia, Duke, Georgia and Clemson.

Altogether McWhorter has coached in eight bowls during his 18-year coaching career.

McWhorter and wife Rebecca have three children: Kasay, Katie, and Mac.

RICK STOCKSTILL
Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill is in his 10th consecutive season at Clemson as an assistant coach. He has experience as a wide receivers and quarterbacks coach at Clemson. His contributions in terms of on-field coaching and recruiting are significant reasons Clemson has been to bowl games in seven of his nine seasons with the program.

Stockstill has had a positive effect on the Clemson passing game over the years. In 1997, his receiving corps set school records for receptions and reception yardage. Leading the way was Biletnikoff Award semifinalist Tony Horne, who had a record 70 receptions and record tying eight touchdowns.

Stockstill graduated from Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL, in 1977. After graduating from Florida State in 1982 with a B.S. degree in physical education, he immediately went into coaching.

As a member of Bobby Bowden's first recruiting class, Stockstill was the starting quarterback on a pair of Orange Bowl teams, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

Although Stockstill never played a game in Death Valley, his brother, Jeff, played for the Tigers from 1979-82 and was a key reserve on the national championship team.

Before coming to Clemson, Stockstill was an assistant coach at Bethune Cookman (1983-84) and Central Florida (1985-88).

In his first year (1989) as quarterbacks coach at Clemson, he helped lead Clemson to a single-season record for completion percentage (60%). In 1991, the offense led by DeChane Cameron, the all-time winningest quarterback in Clemson history in terms of percentage, led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense. He also co-coordinated the #6 offense in Clemson history in 1995.

Stockstill is married to the former Sara Fleischman. The couple has one son, Brent, and one daughter, Emily.

Running Down the Hill

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Clemson Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season. Less than a year before Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was at war.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a walk down Williamson Road from Fike Field House's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the hill behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities in the west end zone—only a big clock where the hands turned, and a scoreboard, which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the hill for its warmup exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no tiger paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the Clemson class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA, and picked up this white flint rock. He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA, to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in

Howard's office in Fike for a year or more. One day Howard was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was the executive secretary of IPTAY, to, "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office."

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948 McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in Death Valley.

An occasional reference to Memorial stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it 'Death Valley' in the 1950's, the name took off like wild-fire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the 'valley' in 1991.

But getting back to Howard's rock.

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show and the story became legend.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west end zone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the hill, their record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above—261 times heading into the 1998 season.

After Clemson's final warm-up, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west end zone stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east end zone and debarks to the top of the hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying tiger paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up 'Tiger Rag'...The frenzy starts in all sincerity...and usually lasts two and a half to three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

Clemson Traditions

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at "Death Valley" because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the 50s, the term really caught on. It is now in its 57th year.

Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetery outside the fence on the press box side of the stadium. But, although it would make sense, the name was first coined by McMillian.

First Friday Parade

The Clemson football season kicks off each year with the annual First Friday Parade. The once a year event takes place on the Friday afternoon prior to the first home football game. Floats from various fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations are represented in the parade that rolls down highway 93 in front of the President's house in Clemson. The parade culminates at the Amphitheater in the middle of campus where the first Pep Rally of the year takes place.

The Grand Marshall of the Parade is featured at the Pep Rally. Recent Grand Marshalls have ranged from former PGA professional Dillard Pruitt, to College Football Hall of Fame legends Jess Neely and Frank Howard, to noted television announcers Brent Musberger and Ara Parseghian.

Homecoming

Clemson holds a classic homecoming every year. Displays by fraternities and sororities that are months in the making, are built on Bowman Field the week prior to Homecoming weekend. It is an event that draws alumni and friends of Clemson from all over the country.

The Friday evening prior to the game, Tigerama is held in Death Valley, which is an event that attracts over 35,000 fans. It is widely known as the largest pep rally in the world. The Homecoming Queen and her court are presented in addition to Homecoming skits, a pep rally, and a large and loud fireworks display.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Clemson met Centre. Clemson has a 53-18-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .736 winning percentage, and has outscored the opposition 1,555-976 in those previous 74 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 13. Clemson has been especially successful on Homecoming in recent years, posting a 23-2-2 record since 1970.

Orange Pants

The tradition of the Clemson team wearing orange pants is new according to tradition standards. The Tigers first wore the all orange uniform for the final game of the 1980 season against South Carolina. Clemson upset the 14th ranked Gamecocks and Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers, 27-6. The victory set the stage for Clemson's National Championship run of 1981.

Overall, Clemson is 31-9 in orange pants since that 1980 game, including an 18-2 record in games played in the month of November. The Tigers had an eight-game winning streak in orange pants snapped in the 1996 Peach Bowl against Louisiana State. Clemson has nine wins over top 20 opponents when wearing orange pants, including the 22-15 National Championship clinching win over Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to run down "The Hill", the players first rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, for a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. In that game, the Tigers rallied from 18 points down with 17 minutes to play. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 120 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warm-up, the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 PM game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played, and Clemson charges down the hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 261 times heading into 1998.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation. It used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942, the football lockerrooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to spend the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium.

In 1996, the Clemson University athletic department agreed to have University Netcasting, better known as FANSONLY, post its official athletic website on the world wide web. Since that time, Clemson fans have been able to access up to the minute information on all of Clemson's varsity sports at the internet address www.clemsontigers.com.

This upcoming school year should prove to be another exciting season at clemsontigers.com. In early September the site took on a fresh design. In an effort to give the Clemson site its own unique image, the people at FANSONLY and Clemson have worked over the summer to make the site more appealing to you, the fan. In addition to cosmetic changes at clemsontigers.com there will be some new features.

Some of the highlights for this season from clemsontigers.com are live game stats and live audio coverage for every football game. If you can't make it to the game, don't worry, with our real-time stats and live game coverage you'll be able to follow every single snap from the comforts of your home computer. Our Associated Press wire feed will automatically post the game story minutes after the contest has concluded. In addition to the game recap, fans will be able to check out actual video highlights of the game.

Not only will you have more information than those Monday morning quarterbacks, but you'll have more access than ever before to Clemson football. Fans will be able to hear clips from Tommy West's post-game interviews as well as be able to listen live to the ACC Football Coach's Teleconference every Wednesday throughout the season.

Football isn't the only sport covered by clemsontigers.com; you can get comprehensive coverage on all of Clemson's 19 varsity sports. Check out the latest release on the women's soccer team, view the game recaps from men's soccer, or find your favorite volleyball player's biography. Clemsontigers.com is expanding its coverage of Tiger Olympic sports to include more action photos, audio clips from players and coach's and video highlights.

As the official athletic website for Clemson University athletics, clemsontigers.com is the only place to go for all of your Clemson sports information. From

Stadium Information

SEASON TICKET HOLDERS/OTHER VISITORS: Season ticket holders and other visitors to the stadium are requested to enter Gates 1, 5, 9, 11, or 13. Persons with top deck tickets must enter the stadium via the ramps, which are located behind the North and South Stands. Ramp entrances are adjacent to Gates 1 and 13 on the South side and Gates 5 and 9 on the North side.

HANDICAPPED: Special entrances have been provided at Gates 1, 5 and 13 for the handicapped.

WILL-CALL: Will-call tickets can be picked up at the ticket office at Gate 9.

PASS-OUT HAND STAMPS: Pass-out hand stamps will be available at Gates 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, and 13 and the top decks. Any person leaving the stadium other than with a team pass must have his or her hands stamped, as well as admittance stub, to be readmitted to the stadium.

Gates 4, 6 and 8 are closed prior to the games and are opened for exit purposes only.

TELEPHONE: Pay telephones are located at the stadium ticket offices at Gates 1, 5, 9, 13, top decks.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM: The public address system is intended primarily for spectators' information concerning the game. Please do not request the use of the public address system to make social contacts.

RESTROOMS: Ladies' and men's restrooms are located between the stands and can be reached by exit from portal.

LOST & FOUND: If any article is lost or found, please report it to the Gate 1 or Gate 10 information booths.

CONCESSION STANDS: Concession stands are located beneath all stands and can be reached from any portal.

PROHIBITED ITEMS: The following items are prohibited in Memorial Stadium: umbrellas, folding chairs, chaise lounges, food and beverage containers of any type, alcoholic beverages, thermos jugs, and ice chests.

NOTICE: Solicitation for any purpose is prohibited at an athletic contest in Clemson Memorial Stadium.

EMERGENCIES

First Aid stations are located at the following places: South Side—Under Section J; North Side—Under Section T; North Top Deck—Under Section K; South Top Deck—Under Section E.

Trained nurses are on hand during each game. Should a doctor be needed, ask any usher, who knows the seat location of doctors. Ambulances are located at Gates 1, 5, 8, and 13.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE: Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry.

INSECT STINGS: Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK: The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two or more minutes.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL: Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

EMERGENCY CALLS: Emergency calls are received in the Security Booth.

THE STADIUM EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBER IS (864) 656-2999.

We Do Chicken Right.

IPTAY is widely regarded nationally as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung into an organization that raised a record $9,143,045 last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 19 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that contribute to the well-being of student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumulative GPA on record for five consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, currently helping over 30 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson.

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going, and he accepted."

Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one manager's position in the first year. Now there are over 50 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number-three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett.

"We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports.

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

Strength Training

Clemson fans look forward to seeing tough, hard-nosed football when they come to Death Valley or travel to other schools to watch their Tigers in action. But some of the Tigers' most intense competition and action doesn't take place on autumn Saturday's and it doesn't take place on a field. Take a peek into the Clemson Strength Training Room at almost any time of day, almost any day of the week, at any time of the year, and you will see the Tigers building the foundation for their pursuit of a championship.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. Several years ago, it was enlarged to an astounding 11,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. Two years ago, it was expanded to 14,000 square feet. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several other different sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

Within the last year the dumbbell area and leg strength area were expanded and the facility saw the addition of the Austin Leg Drive Machine.

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place in the facility. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system - a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Four color television monitors are also positioned throughout the facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on form correction.

The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road when the Tiger football team plays in a bowl game.

Recently, the operation of the strength training facility was enhanced by the addition of a new computerized program. Tiger strength coaches are now able to enter all the current strength data on an athlete, and the computer will generate a 10-week conditioning program that will help the athlete reach optimum results.

1978 Team

by Tim Bourret

You would have a hard time convincing even the most knowledgeable fan that the 1978 Clemson football team is the greatest in school history. After all, the 1981 Tiger eleven won all 12 of its games and finished the season as National Champion, the only #1 team in Clemson history.

If it hadn't been for one September afternoon in Athens, Georgia, Clemson football history might reflect a different answer, or at least a multiple answer to that, "Who is the greatest team," question.

Statistically, the team that will be honored today is the greatest in school history. No Clemson team in history dominated its opponents more on both sides of the line of scrimmage in terms of yardage and scoring over the course of a season.

A look to the final NCAA statistics from that season tells the story. The Tigers of 1978 finished fifth in the nation in scoring offense (32 points per game) and fifth in the nation in scoring defense, allowing just 10.5 points per game. It was fourth in the nation in total offense (436.7 yards per game) and 15th in total defense, allowing 254 yards a game. Clemson was sixth in the nation in rushing, averaging nearly 300 yards per game and fifth in turnover margin. The passing game completed 54 percent of its passes and threw just five interceptions.

Even the special teams were among the best, as the Tigers finished second in the nation in punt returns, and recent Clemson Hall of Fame inductee Obed Ariri was 12th in the nation in scoring.

A look at the future NFL stars on that 1978 team gives more evidence that this was the most talented team in Clemson history. No less than six players (Jerry Butler, Steve Fuller, Jim Stuckey, Jeff Bryant, Perry Tuttle and Terry Kinard) were first-round NFL draft choices. Seventeen players on the team were drafted and 18 played in the NFL. Eleven of the 18 played at least five years in the NFL.

The players on Clemson's starting offense that year played a combined 61 years in the NFL. Just look at the offensive line alone. Jeff Bostic, the center, played 14 years in the league, more than any other former Clemson player in history. His brother, Joe Bostic, was a starting guard who started nine years in the league and was an All-American in 1978. Steve Kenney, a starting tackle, played for the Philadelphia Eagles and Detroit Lions for seven years.

Starting quarterback Steve Fuller played 10 years in the league, while his favorite targets Jerry Butler and Dwight Clark, both were All-Pros and played nine years in the league. That does not even include second-team wide receiver Perry Tuttle, who was a first-round draft pick and All-American in 1981.

In addition to all the statistical accomplishments, it was a team of character and great leadership. After a 58-3 victory over the Citadel in the season opener, Clemson traveled to Georgia and the Bulldogs put a hurting on the Clemson offense, shutting out the Tigers 12-0. That's right, an offense that featured all those future NFL players, probably the most productive offense in Clemson history, failed to score and committed six turnovers.

The season could have turned South, but instead the leadership of this outstanding senior class, coupled with the talent of the younger players, brought on a 10-game winning streak to end the season. Only a team of strong character could come back from such a disappointing second-game performance to end the season sixth in the nation in the final polls.

The character took over in the third game and the result was a 31-0 victory over Villanova, a team led by future All-Pro Howie Long. A Clemson Homecoming crowd enjoyed a 38-7 victory over Virginia Tech in the season's fourth game. Steve Fuller ran 75 yards for a touchdown on the game's second play, still the longest run by a Clemson quarterback in history.

The offense continued its dominance of the offensive line in week five as the Tigers gained 419 yards rushing in a 30-14 win over Virginia. Lester Brown, known as "the Rubber Duck" had 178 yards rushing including a 59-yard touchdown run on Clemson's first play from scrimmage. A 28-8 victory over Duke followed thanks to the play of Randy Scott, who had three takeaways out of Clemson's seven total forced turnovers.

The NC State game in Raleigh was a battle of the Browns. NC State was led by Ted Brown, a senior running back who had rushed for 227 yards and four touchdowns against Clemson as a freshman. The Tigers featured Lester Brown, who would end the season as Clemson's second 1000-yard rusher in history and a record 17 touchdowns.

The key to the game? Clemson had one more Brown than the Pack. It was Clemson linebacker Bubba Brown who would earn National Player of the Week honors from Sports Illustrated. Clemson's all-time leading tackler (that's right, not Jeff Davis or Anthony Simmons) finished the day with 18 tackles and almost personally limited Ted Brown to 70 yards in 21 carries and no touchdowns in Clemson's 33-10 victory.

Clemson rushed for 247 yards, including 118 and two touchdowns by Lester Brown. Rex Varn returned an interception 93 yards for a touchdown, his second +90-yard return of his career. It was a big victory for Clemson over a team that would end the season with a 9-3 record and a top 20 final ranking.

"This was a great team victory," said Clemson Head Coach Charley Pell. "I can't express in words how much this victory means. It is the greatest team effort I've been a part of since I first put on a football uniform in 1958."

It was also a proud day for Clemson fans. In one of the most incredible showings of spirit in college history, the 5000 Clemson fans forced NC State quarterback Scott Smith to back away from the line of scrimmage and ask the referee for time because of crowd noise...noise caused by the visiting Clemson fans. We have the pictures to prove it.

The winning streak continued the next week on Tobacco Road with a 51-6 scorching of Wake Forest. For the sixth time in eight games Clemson scored on its first possession of the game. The Tigers rushed for 342 yards and gained 208 yards passing. Lester Brown led the way with a 117 yard rushing performance and Perry Tuttle caught his first career touchdown pass, ironically in his hometown of Winston-Salem on a 42-yard pass from Fuller. The defense showed how much improvement it had made over the last two years. In 1976, Wake Forest running back James McDougald had rushed for 249 yards against the Tigers. The entire Wake Forest team had just three yards rushing in 25 attempts on this afternoon.

The rivalry with North Carolina was just as strong in the 1970s as it is today. Clemson was a heavy favorite against a young North Carolina team that featured a sophomore linebacker named Lawrence Taylor. With 13:14 left in the game, North Carolina held a 9-6 lead and Clemson's dreams of a championship season and top 10 finish were in jeopardy. But, Steve Fuller directed a precise 80-yard drive and Lester Brown scored on a one yard run with 9:48 left. The Clemson defense took over from there.

While Clemson had been racing to an 8-1 record, Maryland had been doing the same. A battle of top 12 teams met in College Park for the championship of the ACC on November 18, 1978. It proved to be as exciting as a heavyweight championship fight.

It was a game of big play after big play. At one juncture there were three consecutive scores from at least 60 yards out. Maryland scored on a blocked punt that was recovered in the endzone by Mike Carney. On the next possession, Jerry Butler got loose in the secondary and sped 87 yards for a score. Jim Phillips simply said, "and Butler is off to the races."

Maryland countered with a 98-yard touchdown run by Steve Atkins, still the longest run in ACC history. But, Clemson got off the mat when Fuller hit Dwight Clark over the middle and the future NFL Player of the Year raced 67 yards for a touchdown.

That score tied the game at 21 after three periods. Clemson's winning 70-yard drive came in the fourth period and culminated with a five-yard run by Brown. Maryland then drove to the Tiger seven, but on third down, Clemson's defensive Brown, Bubba, stopped Maryland's Dean Richards for a loss and the Terps settled for a field goal with 1:56 left. Chuck Rose recovered the ensuing onside kick and when Fuller guided the Tigers to a pair of first downs, the game ended with a 28-24 victory, an ACC title and a bid to the Gator Bowl to meet Ohio State.

The regular season finale in Death Valley featured one of the most dominant rushing performances in Clemson history on a team basis. For only the third time in school history, three different Clemson backs rushed for at least 100 yards as the Tigers thrashed South Carolina, 41-23. The list of 100-yard rushers included Fuller, who would be named the ACC Player of the Year for the second time at seasons end.

Three Clemson head coaches had an impact on this 1978 team. The success of that team dates to the 1974 season when the 1978 seniors were recruited off a 7-4 season turned in by Red Parker. His efforts brought in Steve Fuller, Jerry Butler, Joe Bostic and Steve Kenney and set the foundation for the Clemson program.

Charley Pell was the head coach of the 1978 Tigers and brought the program to a level of success and confidence that had not been seen since the days of Frank Howard. At the end of the regular season, Pell resigned to take the head coaching job at Florida. He recommended that assistant head coach Danny Ford be his successor. He would lead Clemson to the fifth best winning percentage in college football in the 1980s, including the 1981 National Championship.

Ford's first game as head coach was against Woody Hayes and the Ohio State Buckeyes. The 30-year old Clemson coach was making his debut in a bowl game on National TV. "Before the game, I didn't know if I was going to be able to make it to the game," said Ford. "I almost lost my guts about 4:00 PM. But, when we started the game, I forgot about it. It was just like lining up and playing for the first time."

This would be a landmark game in Clemson and college football history. Clemson won a narrow decision, 17-15, its first win ever against a Big Ten team. Freshman Cliff Austin, who had started the season on the JV team, scored what proved to be the winning touchdown. Four years later he would score the winning touchdown in Clemson's National Championship victory over Nebraska.

Ohio State scored late and went for the tie, but Jim Stuckey broke through the line and stopped freshman quarterback Art Schlichter short of paydirt. Ohio State had one more chance in the final minutes. They drove to the Clemson 40. But, on a second-down play, Charlie Bauman intercepted a Schlichter pass, the only interception of the second-team middle guard's career. He had dropped into the passing lane to make the theft and was then run out of bounds at midfield on the Ohio State side of the field.

When Bauman stood up, he was struck in the throat....shockingly, by Hayes. A fight ensued and when it was sorted out by the officials, Clemson was given possession of the ball and Ohio State was charged with a 15-yard unsportsmanlike penalty. Clemson ran out the clock to gain the victory. The next day Hayes, a Hall of Fame Coach, was fired by Ohio State and never coached again.

The bizarre ending brought attention to Clemson's victory and the Tigers ended the year ranked sixth in the nation, the highest in Clemson history at the time. The freshmen on the 1978 team would enhance the winning tradition of Clemson football three years later, winning the National Championship as seniors on the 1981 team.

That group will be the first to tell you that they couldn't have attained that 12-0 season without the leadership demonstrated by the seniors of 1978. Perhaps the 1978 team is the greatest in school annals because they had a direct effect on the two highest ranked teams in Clemson history.

Clemson University

HISTORY

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955 Clemson became a civilian co-educational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state Legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U. S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

The official Clemson University Webpage is www.clemson.edu

John Thompson

by Julie Prince Paré

Senior John Thompson has overcome injury to become an integral part of the Clemson team.

Thompson played the first four games of his freshman season before a slipped disk in his neck ended his season early. He saw action at the inside linebacker position against Western Carolina and played special teams against Florida State, Wake Forest and Virginia.

"I ended up not playing the rest of the season," said Thompson. "That spring I was having a really good spring, and I ended up blowing my knee out."

He suffered a torn ACL - an injury which usually needs six to eight months of rehabilitation. Thompson had reconstructive knee surgery in March of 1996 and began his rehabilitation.

"I stayed here all summer to do rehab," he said. "I averaged about two and a half hours of work a day in the rehab center, plus I had to spend time at home doing exercises and pulls."

Instead of the typical six to eight months, Thompson was ready to return to the field four months later, just in time for the season. "I was pretty much 100 percent and I felt good so I went ahead and played," said Thompson.

Since his injury, the Jacksonville, FL native has played in 29 consecutive games. During his sophomore season Thompson was mainly a part of the special teams, but he did see action as an inside linebacker in four games.

His best performance came against Maryland, when Thompson only played four snaps and recorded three tackles. He had two tackles for loss in the game, including the first sack of his career. Also that season, Thompson had a 10 yard kickoff return against South Carolina.

Just prior to the start of his junior season, Thompson made the move from inside linebacker to fullback.

"I've always been a linebacker at heart, and fullback is pretty much the same thing," he said. "It's a position where you've got to go in there and try to attack people."

Thompson admits the move was a good one. "It's been good for me," he says, "because I was getting stagnant at linebacker. I played fullback in high school, so I felt comfortable with the move."

He played fullback in six games last season, joining Michael Allen as the only players on the current team who have lettered on both sides of the ball. In the first game of the 1997 season, Thompson had one carry for five yards. He also continued playing special teams, finishing the season with five special team stops, including three against Auburn in the Peach Bowl. He had one kickoff return of 16-yards against Georgia Tech.

Football was the main reason Thompson came to Clemson, but it wasn't the only reason. "Football is always your first major coming out of high school," he says. "You're young and you don't know any better. Football is the only thing that's on your mind."

Clemson's strong tradition also drew him toward the school, plus the chance for academic success. "I went and visited Vickery Hall," he said. "I told myself that this could help me get through school, and I knew I would need some help because of the long hours I put into football."

The atmosphere surrounding the town was another strong point. "It's not often that you find a university right on the lake, where you have all the activities you can do on the lake," said Thompson. "It's a great place, and I felt comfortable here."

One final selling point for Thompson was the chance to play on the same college team as Fletcher High School teammate Rahim Abdullah, who Thompson has known since he was seven years old. "We played Pop Warner ball together and we have grown up together," he said.

"Rahim is an experience to be around, so coming up here with him made it a lot easier for me. We had talked in high school about maybe getting a chance to play college football together. We've known each other for a long time, so coming up here together made the transition for both of us a lot easier. It has been good for both of us to have somebody to talk to when things weren't so good. It's been fun, too."

Thompson is beginning to look to the future. He will graduate in December, having earned his management degree in three and a half years. He plans to begin graduate school at Clemson in January. "I'm still trying to find out what I want to do," he says.

Thompson eventually sees himself being an entrepreneur and owning his own company, but he isn't sure what kind of company. He hopes to use the first semester of graduate school to determine whether to enter the business world or continue furthering his education.

"By the time I get out of school, there's no telling what will be the newest thing," he says. "If I don't own my own company, there are a lot of other opportunities I haven't even tapped into."

When he looks back over his experiences as a Tiger, one stands out that made the biggest impression on him. "Definitely the bus ride to the hill is something you will never forget," he says without hesitation. "With all of the fans yelling and screaming - that's the best part. The best part is getting to the top of the hill and hearing the cannon go off."

As for the rest of the season, Thompson says the team is prepared. "We're looking to really step up," he says. "We've had our problems and set backs in the beginning of the season, and we've gone back to the drawing board and just tried to work hard. We're going to try to come back and make the season the best possible."

Thompson is one that can definitely teach the team about comebacks.

Women's Swimming & Diving

by Julie Prince Paré

The Clemson women's swimming and diving team enters the 1998-99 season with high expectations. After ranking as high as 17th nationally by the Coaches' Association and finishing 35th at the NCAA Championship meet in 1998, the team is prepared to take its success even farther this season.

"The women's team is a very exciting program to be a part of right now," said head coach Bruce Marchionda. "This is a team that is moving in the right direction. It is not stagnant, nor moving backwards. We're looking to break into the nation's top 15 teams this year and to move up from there. We're looking for great things to come from this team — not only a battle for the ACC Championship, but also to move up in the national rankings."

Clemson returns two All-Americans from last season, juniors Erin Schatz and Mihalik, and two all-ACC performers in Mihalik and senior Wendy Henson to lead the team in its quest for its second ACC title in the last three years.

Freestyle

Veterans Jennifer Mihalik, Kathy Lowry and Melissa Gebhart will lead Clemson in the sprint relay events. Mihalik, an All-American last season, posted a 23.32 in the 50 free at the NCAA championships, the third-fastest time in Clemson history. She also holds the third-fastest time in the 100 free (50.50). Lowry enters her senior season ranked fourth in the 100 free with a time of 51.57. As a freshman last season, Gebhart posted the ninth-fastest time in Clemson history with a 51.61 in the 100 free. Newcomers Caroline Peterson and Patty Hider will add to the Tigers' depth in the sprint events.

In the middle distance events, several veterans will lead the way for the Tigers. Senior Wendy Henson, a 1998 All-ACC performer, holds the third-fastest time in Clemson history in the 200 free (1:47.76) and the sixth spot for the 500 freestyle with a time of 4:49.98. Charli Reasons placed ninth in Clemson history with a 1:50.39 in the 200 free as a freshman last year, just 13 hundredths of a second behind Mihalik.

"These swimmers had a great, great year last year," said Marchionda. "We hope that a couple of rookies or veterans will step up and help out in these events."

Clemson returns All-American Erin Schatz to lead the distance freestyle event. Schatz finished 16th nationally in the 1650 free last season with a time of 16:33.05 to move into third place on Clemson's all-time list. She ranks fourth all-time in the 500 freestyle (4:48.46) and finished 23rd at the NCAA championships last season. Senior Stacey Finner is also one of the top returnees, and Marchionda looks for her to continue her improvement in the 1000 and 1650 to make the distance group as strong as it can be. Freshman Cami Sink will also help out in the distance events.

Butterfly

The Tigers have two new swimmers that will have an immediate impact on the program in the butterfly events. Marchionda believes freshmen Emily Hustead and Katie Mizell could easily post Clemson's fastest times this season. Junior Kendra Kelly, along with seniors Amy Suppinger and Kathy Lowry are ranked fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively in Clemson's all-time records in the 100 butterfly. Senior Lisa Bartlett is 10th in the 200 butterfly with a time of 2:03.94.

"The butterfly should be a great event for us this year," said Marchionda, "where last year it perhaps was not a real strong event for us."

Breaststroke

Junior Magdalena Kupiec broke the Clemson 100 breast record with a time of 1:03.49 as a freshman, then just missed qualifying for the NCAA championships last season. Marchionda expects her to get the breaststroke group moving this season. Other key returnees include sophomore Danielle Goetz, who holds the 10th best time in the 100 (1:05.52), Suppinger, who ranks seventh overall in the 200 with a time of 2:20.99, and sophomore Lauren Rafferty, who is sixth in the 100 (1:05.03). Sink, although mainly an IM swimmer, could also represent the Tigers in breaststroke events.

"I look for great things because we have a great pool of talent in the breaststroke events," said Marchionda. "Hopefully they will push each other in practice, and we will get two of these swimmers to the national championships."

Backstroke

The backstroke may prove to be Clemson's strongest and deepest event. The Tigers return an all-conference and All-American performer in Mihalik, who broke the ACC record and the Clemson school record in the 200 back with a time of 1:58.77 at the conference championships last season. Mihalik finished 15th nationally at the NCAA meet, posting a time of 2:00.24. Schatz, an All-American as well, won the conference championship in the 200 back in 1997 and holds the third-fastest time in Clemson history (1:59.95). Reasons holds the sixth-fastest times in both the 100 and 200 back, and Rafferty ranks fifth in the 200 and eighth in the 100. Junior Agata Jandowska ranks eighth in the 200 with a time of 2:02.93.

"These five backstrokers will really shine, increasing our depth factor," said Marchionda. "This could be one of our strongest events, making us a strong force in the ACC and on a national level, as well."

Individual Medley

Senior Lisa Bartlett had an outstanding year in the 200 and 400 IM, ranking second in Clemson history with a 4:21.04 in the 400 IM and third with a 2:03.91 in the 200 IM. Other veteran IM swimmers include Schatz, who holds the sixth-fastest time in the 400 IM (4:22.63), Goetz and Leslie Anderson. Sink recently earned an Olympic trial qualifying time in IM events and should increase the strength of Clemson's IM swimmers.

Diving

Clemson will depend on the strong leadership of junior Aly Susterka and senior Summer Ecker in the diving events. Jillian OrRico and Betsy Potter are coming off great freshman seasons and will be pushed by newcomers Michelle Cunnane and Michaela Smith, two high school All-Americans who qualified for Senior Nationals last year.

"I hope the freshmen will push this group so that we will move up in the ACC standings," said Marchionda. "I am looking for the diving program to step up and make a big difference in our victories this season."

Relays

Clemson's depth was the key to all of the team's outstanding relay performances a year ago, and Marchionda believes this depth will also be the key in relay performances for the 98-99 season. "With the return of several swimmers who had some of the fastest times in Clemson history and a great recruiting class, we're looking to challenge a number of the relay records this year and to qualify them not only for the ACC finals, but NCAA competition as well," he said.

Schedule and Conference

Clemson's schedule this season is as strong as ever, with the Tigers facing teams from both the ACC and the SEC. "When we face Auburn and Tennessee, it should be an exciting meet," said Marchionda.

"This season should be a stepping stone from the last couple of years. Winning the ACC title, moving more people to the NAAs, and getting more All-Americans are steps we need to continue to move on, and we really feel that we can do this with our schedule."

Erin Schatz was a 1998 All-American in the 1650 freestyle.

Men's Swimming & Diving

by Julie Prince Paré

The Clemson men's swimming and diving team enters the 1998-99 season looking to build on the foundation it laid last year. Last season's team broke five Clemson records, three individual and two relay marks. In all there are 12 men returning who are ranked in the Clemson All-Time Top-10.

"We've got high expectations that the men's team will move in a very positive direction this season," said head coach Bruce Marchionda. "We have nine new swimmers that should have an immediate impact on the program. This is our strongest recruiting class since I've taken over as head coach."

"We have a very strong nucleus of returning swimmers that will provide the leadership that we need," said Marchionda. "This is probably the best team we've had in the men's program."

Freestyle

Two veterans return to lead the Tigers in the sprint freestyle events. Sophomore Razvan Petcu holds Tiger records in both the 50 free (20.11) and the 100 free (43.82). Last season he became the first Clemson swimmer to compete in three events at the NCAA Championship meet since 1988. At the national meet, Petcu posted a 20.28 in the 50 free and a 48.73 in the 100 free. Junior Mike Pridemore holds the fifth-fastest 50 free time in Clemson history (20.53). He competed in the Senior National Championships in California this summer.

"These two veterans will lead a new, incoming class of sprinters that have the potential to be one of the best sprint groups at the ACC Championships," said Marchionda.

Newcomers Alexandru Ioanovici, who represented Romania in the 1996 Olympics, Brett Walker and Matt Stone will complete the Clemson lineup for the sprint freestyle events.

Two seniors will lead the way in the middle distance and distance events. Matt Maurer holds the ninth-best time in the 500 free at 4:30.17. He ranks third all-time in the 1000 free (9:18.16) and fourth in the 1650 free (15:28.58). Will York ranks 10th in Clemson history in both the 500 free (4:30.51) and the 1000 free (9:27.82). He is eighth on Clemson's all-time list in the 1650 with a time of 15:43.21.

Sophomores Andrew Gessert and Will Rogers, along with freshmen Kenny Roberts, who represented Seychelles in the 1996 Olympics, Andy Meek and Brad Wickard will compete in the middle distance events. Freshman Matt Stone will compete in the distance events.

Butterfly

Clemson returns a strong squad of butterfly swimmers from last season's team. Petcu holds the Tiger record in the 100 fly, qualifying for the NCAA Championship meet with a time of 47.99.

Pridemore is seventh on Clemson's all-time list in the 100 fly with a time of 49.98, and junior Wes Morrow ranks tenth in the 200 fly (1:51.05).

"Newcomers Roberts and Stone have already posted times that are among the top-10 times in Clemson's history," said Marchionda.

Breaststroke

While Marchionda admits the breaststroke may have been one of Clemson's weakest events last year, he believes it could be one of the team's strongest events this year. Sophomore Alejandro Dubreuil holds the 10th fastest time in Clemson history in the 100 breaststroke, after posting a time of 57.68 as a freshman. Freshman Matt Wilson has the potential to post top-10 times in the 200, while freshman Brett Walker could break into Clemson's all-time top-10 in the 100. Marchionda expects freshman Sean Wallace to gain spots in the Clemson record books in both the 100 and 200 breaststroke.

"With these three newcomers, breaststroke should be a very strong event for us, and a very deep event for us," he said.

Backstroke

Three upperclassmen will compete in the backstroke for the Tigers. Sophomore Tim Collis has the third-best time in Clemson history in the 100 back (50.06) and the second-best time in the 200 back (1:49.03), while junior Adam Porter ranks fourth in the 100 at 50.49 and seventh in the 200 at 1:50.74. Junior Rob Ethridge is ninth among Clemson's top-10 swimmers in the 100 back with a time of 51.60. Wilson will complete the backstroke lineup for the Tigers.

Individual Medley

In the individual medley, Marchionda expects junior Wes Morrow to continue his improvement from last year and hopes Dubreuil will continue to develop as a threat for the Tigers. Wilson, who Marchionda believes has the ability to break the Clemson record in the 200 and 400 IM, and Sean Wallace will fill the remaining positions in the IM events.

Relays

Clemson's depth is the key factor in record-setting relay times. Last season the team set new school records in the 200 medley and the 400 medley relays.

"This year we're looking to break even more records," said Marchionda. "We've been able to improve our depth. The veterans of last year, combined with the talents of the incoming freshman class, provide a great foundation for record-setting relays this season."

Diving

The return of sophomore Jeff Thomas, who was injured last year, should add to Clemson's depth in the diving events. "Sophomore Andy Garrett did an outstanding job as a freshman and continues to improve," said Marchionda.

Schedule and Conference

Clemson's schedule is loaded with very strong competitors, including many teams that will be ranked in the nation's top-25. The Tigers will open the season at Virginia before facing two teams that are new to the schedule, Virginia Tech and Penn State. Clemson will also compete against most of the ACC teams during the regular season, a good challenge for the team, according to Marchionda.

"We are looking forward to the new challenges," he said. "Hopefully, we will come out with a winning record and experience that will enable us to grow and become a better team. I feel for the first time, the men's program is a contender for the top three spots in the ACC Championships. We feel like we are one of the teams that will continue to improve and start moving up in the national rankings."

Last season, Razvan Petcu became the first Clemson swimmer to compete in three events at the NCAA Championships since 1988.

imagine

the possibilities

Some things really do get better with age.

In 1898, Clemson College introduced a program dedicated to the science and study of textiles. Today, celebrating a centennial of textile education, Clemson University's School of Textiles, Fiber and Polymer Science teaches some of the most respected and competitive curricula in the nation.

Equipped with advanced facilities and technology, Clemson stands at the forefront of the country's textile programs.

Quite innovative for an idea 100 years old.

A century old and only beginning.

Mother of the Year

by Meredith Merritt

Parents' Day pays tribute to both the individual families as well as the "Clemson families". Today Tiger Brotherhood acknowledges the 1998 Mother-of-the-Year: Mrs. Edmee Franklin Reel, whose Clemson career has spanned more than thirty years.

Mrs. Reel said that when she "saw the two gentlemen coming to my door I thought they were going to try to sell me something. Instead they were coming to tell me that I had been selected Mother-of-the-Year. I was thrilled, humbled and honored."

Born in New Orleans, LA, Mrs. Reel attended Louisiana State University and graduated with a B.S. degree in Secondary Education. She then came to Clemson and earned a Master's degree in Reading. She and her husband, Jerry V. Reel, Jr. came back to Clemson in 1963 when Mr. Reel took a job with the university teaching history. Mr. Reel, the Senior Vice Provost and Dean of Undergraduate Studies, is still a history professor at the university where he specializes in Medieval English.

Mrs. Reel served as the R.C. Edwards Middle School media specialist for 31 years. During that time period she and her husband worked together on various research projects. Throughout her career Mrs. Reel was active in the the South Carolina Association of School Librarians. She served as a State Officer, Awards and Legislative Committee member and Book Award Committee member and chair. Her commitment to libraries has also been shown with her involvement as chair on the Pickens County Library Board, on which she still serves. During her tenure she has helped replace four older libraries with new state-of-the-art buildings.

When not busy with work Mrs. Reel found time to raise three children, all of whom are Clemson graduates. Her oldest Jerome V. Reel III, who works for M.H. Franks in Clemson, married Tiger alumnus, Paula Rahn. Her first daughter, Helen Austin Reel Adams followed in her older brother's footsteps by marrying an alumnus as well, Patrick Adams. They have three children, Benjamin, Reel, and Austin. Mrs. Adams works in the Development office for the university. Her third child Elizabeth Whidden Reel Wilkins obtained her undergraduate degree from Tennessee, her master's from Clemson and her Ph.D. from Tusculum. She too married a Clemson alumnus, Michael Wilkins, and they have one daughter, Parker. Mrs. Wilkins is a high school Spanish teacher at Dobson Bennett High School in Kingsport, TN.

When not busy raising three children Mrs. Reel was active in all facets of Clemson. In 1964 she became advisor for the sorority, Sigma Beta Chi, and worked with them until 1970 when it became Chi Omega, her college sorority. For the past twenty-eight years she has served in an advisory or alumnae roll for the sorority.

Her husband worked with the local fraternity, Kappa Sigma Nu, until it became Kappa Sigma in 1970. It was then that Mr. Reel became chapter advisor of his college fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha. Each year the pledge class would visit her home for her biscuits and homemade jams and jellies. Mrs. Reel believes she has made over 28,000 biscuits in the past 34 years. For numerous years now she has had the seniors from the PiKA fraternity over for a formal dinner, called "Knives and Forks" by the brothers, to get them ready for the business world.

On the athletic side Mrs. Reel enjoys attending football, basketball, soccer and baseball games with her family. The fact that a team plays away doesn't allow her to rest on her laurels for she has traveled to many out-of-town games.

Her Clemson civic involvement does not stop with school and work for she is very active in her church, Fort Hill Presbyterian. Mrs. Reel and her husband have been members since 1963 and she has been a member of the University Ministry Committee as well as the wedding guild. Throughout the years there have been biscuit parties and the occasional Sunday night supper that she has cooked for the Presbyterian Student Association. She and her husband even had one bride-to-be as a guest at their house when she had no other place to stay.

When not hosting dinner parties or exchange students, Mrs. Reel enjoys traveling, gardening and reading books. She has helped host many Alumni Association Passport trips and has accompanied Clemson students on several trips to Great Britain with her most recent trip being this past March.

Her philosophy that fresh is best comes from the small herb garden that she enjoys working in. After years of trying, she decided to leave vegetables to professionals. She and her husband usually host a crawfish party or two in the spring, something that Mrs. Reel looks forward to every year.

Music is also an interest, with the sounds of music ranging from Dixieland and Big Band to Beach music and opera. She incorporates Clemson students into her leisure activities as well, taking many of them to the opera. An avid supporter of the Brooks Center she attends many of the student performances.

Books, of course, are her passion. The Secret Garden is her favorite and one that she enjoys reading to her grandchildren. Among her favorite authors are Jan Karon, Ellis Peters, Agatha Christie and Corrine Holt Sawyer.

Tiger Brotherhood is proud to recognize the accomplishments of Mrs. Edmee Reel, whose contributions to both Clemson University and the Clemson community makes her more than deserving of the title 1998 Tiger Brotherhood Mother-of-the-Year

What is Tiger Brotherhood?

Tiger Brotherhood is a local, selective, honorary fraternity. It still embraces the same basic tenets as established by its founders, led by Professor John Logan Marshall in 1929. Enamored with ritual, Tiger Brotherhood promotes high standards of social and ethical conduct, while recognizing in its members an earnest devotion to Clemson, coupled with the integrity of character commensurate with a typical Clemson gentleman.

Tiger Brotherhood embodies an unequaled cross-section representation of the Clemson community. Students, faculty, and staff all work within the bonds of brotherhood to champion a closer relationship. One for all and all for one, with Clemson and its many traditions and undying spirit as the central focus, today provides viable, flexible and a continuing forum for ideas and unending service to Clemson.

Future Schedules

With the higher caliber of play in football within the ACC has come an increased demand for ACC games to be televised. In order to give the conference as much exposure as possible, the ACC adopted a policy in 1993 of determining football schedules in December of the year prior to the following football season.

The procedure allows ACC alumni and fans throughout the country to become familiar with ACC institutions, their football programs and student-athletes. More television exposure directly translates into more talented high school football players aware of the high quality of ACC football and correspondingly better athletes enrolling at ACC schools. Finally, higher viewership produces more rights fee dollars from the networks to support each institution's athletics program and the 2,500 student-athletes currently receiving scholarship assistance at ACC institutions.

We apologize for the inconvenience that this policy places on those of you who are making long term plans during the football season. We thank you for your support of Clemson football and the ACC and appreciate your patience.

Here is a look at the Clemson non-conference schedule thru the year 2005. The complete 1999 schedule will be released in December 1998.

Memorial Stadium

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 56 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 197-74-7, including a 32-11-1 ledger over the last seven seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing—there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedgese.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 57th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that

Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled—the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillian. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillian said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Memorial Stadium is the ninth largest on-campus stadium in the United States.

ACC Football

- The ACC had five of the first 15 players and seven of the first 19 taken in the 1998 NFL draft. The seven first-round selections were the second most in league history.
- The ACC has had 15 first-round draft choices in the last two years, the most in a two-year period in conference history, and more than any other conference. The SEC is second to the ACC in first-round picks the last two years with 14, while the Big 12 is third with eight.
- The ACC had 29 players drafted overall in 1998, third highest among conferences. Eight of the nine schools had at least one pick and they went to 23 different NFL teams.
- The ACC has long been a conference with a strong tradition when it comes to linebackers. Four of the ACC's first eight selections were linebackers in 1998 and overall, six ACC linebackers were chosen, including Clemson's Anthony Simmons, who was the 15th pick of the entire draft by the Seattle Seahawks.
- Over the last two years, 11 ACC linebackers have been selected, including seven within the first three rounds.
- The ACC has had at least one first-round selection in 10 consecutive NFL drafts and in 19 of the last 20. Florida State leads in first-round selections with 21, while Clemson is second with 18. The Tigers have had 168 players drafted in history, including five in 1998.
- There were only 13 teams nationally who had at least five selections and the ACC had three of those teams. Florida State, North Carolina and Clemson all had at least five draft choices in 1998.
- For each of the last two years, the ACC placed 11 former players in the NFL Pro Bowl. Only the Pac-10 with 17 selections had more Pro Bowl selections than the ACC in 1997. Clemson has had seven of those 22 ACC Pro Bowl selections over the last two years, including Levon Kirkland and Chester McGlockton, who have gone each of the last two seasons.
- The ACC had a conference record six consensus All-Americans in 1997, tied with the Big 12 for the most consensus All-Americans. The list included Clemson's Anthony Simmons, who was a first-team selection by Associated Press, the Football Coaches Association and Sporting News. The ACC has had 10 consensus first-team All-America selections over the last two seasons.

Clemson's Anthony Simmons was one of the five ACC players picked among the first 15 players selected in the 1998 NFL Draft.

- Overall, the ACC had 16 different players earn, first, second or third-team All-America honors in 1997.
- A total of 154 former players from the nine ACC schools played in 1997 in the NFL during the regular season or post-season.
- The ACC is the nation's second winningest conference in bowl games over the years. The league has a combined .540 winning percentage (79-67-5) in bowl games. Over the last eight years the ACC is the only conference in the country to have each of its member schools play in a bowl game.
- Georgia Tech, Clemson and Florida State all rank among the top 15 schools in the history of the game in bowl winning percentage (given a minimum of 15 appearances).
- In the decade of the 1990s, ACC teams have posted the nation's second best non-conference winning percentage. The ACC is 176-92-4 against non-league foes since 1990.
- The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football championships since 1980. Clemson won the title in 1981, while Georgia Tech took the crown in 1990 and Florida State was number-one in 1993. Maryland also won the National Championship in 1953, giving the ACC four different schools who have been number-one at the end of a season.
- The 1997 season marked the ninth straight year that the ACC has had at least four teams participate in bowl games.
- ACC Football has drawn at least 2.2 million fans for seven straight years. ACC teams played to 85 percent of their stadium capacity in 1997.
- Twelve times in the last 18 years an ACC member school has claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award, which is awarded to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate among members of its football team.
- Eighty percent of ACC football games involving conference teams are on television. Clemson has averaged 10 televised games per year the last three years to rank among the national leaders in that category. That should be the case again this year. As many as 10 games are expected to be seen on national or regional TV this year, including the Georgia Tech game on ESPN on Thursday, November 12th.

Student-Athlete Enrichment

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long term goal, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on three primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs have provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The proof is in the statistics. A record number of Clemson student-athletes made the academic honor roll in 1997. Nine of Clemson's 13 Sports programs had a higher GPA than the student body average in the 1997 Spring semester. Twenty Clemson football players were on the ACC academic honor roll for the 1996-97 academic year, an all-time record. The Tiger football team had an all-time record GPA for the entire year in 1997-98. The Academic Counselor performs a variety of duties to track academic progress. Their duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has been granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. Of the 160 programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is one of three student-athlete programs in the country to achieve this distinction.

Having tutor certification enables student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with the largest computer lab in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs' Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager in Steve Coleman, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased bringing the lab to a state of the art facility. Over 40 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

PERSONAL GROWTH PROGRAM

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

The purpose of this program is to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. These programs will provide the student-athlete the opportunity to examine and explore issues and topics pertaining to his/her values, personal health and wellness, behavior, and goals. The specific topics will encompass both general transition issues and specific athletic issues as well.

CAREER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the staff at Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athletes.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, the staff is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

Vickery Hall was the first facility of its kind in the nation when it was constructed in 1991.

The Wizard of Oz

by Libby Kehn and Laura Mosher

Today, the Clemson Tigers will face the Maryland Terrapins in Death Valley as Clemson's homecoming weekend continues. The Clemson homecoming tradition dates back to 1922 and has become a weekend full of colorful pageantry.

Last night, Tigerama was performed on Frank Howard field in front of several thousand Tiger students, alumni, and fans. Various organizations performed skits and the evening concluded with an exciting fireworks display.

The Tiger Band's very special homecoming performance will begin with Clemson's traditional pre-game extravaganza. The program will open with the ever popular "Orange Bowl March" followed by "Tiger Rag". The band will perform one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches, "The Washington Post" before the presentation of the colors. Tiger Band will perform "God Bless America" before today's invocation. Following the invocation, the crowd will take part in the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the National Anthem. After the tribute to our country, Tiger Band invites all to sing along to the Clemson University Alma Mater.

This leads into Clemson's long-standing tradition of the dotting of the "i" in the band's script "Tigers." Today the honor belongs to Mrs. Edmee Reel, the Tiger Brotherhood Mother-of-the-Year. Mrs. Reel is the mother of three children who all are Clemson alumni. She was a librarian for 31 years at R.C. Edwards Junior High School in Clemson before retiring in 1997.

The final piece of the pregame show will occur when the band forms a tunnel at the east end of the stadium for "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football" (today it will be about 35 seconds since Clemson will dress 120 players). During this transition into a tunnel, the band will once again excite the crowd with the "Orange Bowl March". The cannon will fire and the Tigers will run down the hill to the tune of "Tiger Rag".

At today's homecoming halftime show, the Tiger Band will present a show titled "The Wizard of Oz". Featured will be music from the award-winning movie including "Ding Dong The Witch is Dead", "We're Off To See the Wizard", "The Merry Old Land of Oz", and "Over the Rainbow".

The show would not be complete without the contribution of the Tiger Twirlers. The Tiger Twirlers have earned the reputation as some of the finest twirlers in the country. Each spring auditions are held for positions as a "Tiger Twirler".

This season's Tiger Twirlers are: Twirler Captain Jenny Satkowski, a junior from Barnwell, SC majoring in Early Childhood and Elementary Education; Allison Labate, a sophomore from Pawling, NY majoring in Speech and Communications; Lindsey Martin, a sophomore from Anderson, SC majoring in Marketing; and Brandy Perry, a graduate student from Clemson, SC majoring in Human Resource Development.

The Twirler Instructor is Cheryl Hosler. Cheryl is in her 2nd year as Tiger Twirler instructor and her 7th year as instructor and choreographer of the Tiger Band Flag Line. A former award-winning baton twirler, she is a graduate of Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance Performance.

Today, at the conclusion of the halftime show, the Tiger Twirlers along with the rest of the Tiger Band will be joined on the field by over 150 former members from across the country who have returned to Death Valley to perform in the Alumni Band and play "Tiger Rag" - one more time.

Let us all thank the Tiger Band and staff: Dr. Mark Hosler - Director, Tiger Band; Paul Buyer - Percussion Instructor; Cheryl Hosler - Flag Line/Twirler Instructor; and Tim Willis - Announcer for their constant support and encouragement. Everyone is welcome to attend the Tiger Band's annual "Pass-In-Review" concert on Thursday, November 19, at 8:00 p.m. in the Brooks Center.

If you are unable to attend the "Pass-In-Review" concert, remember that copies of the Tiger Band's CD "Eye of the Tiger" can be purchased by contacting the Tiger Band office. The CD is $15 plus $2 for shipping and handling. To order a copy contact the Tiger Band office at (864) 656-3380. All proceeds from the sale of CDs will be used to help finance band scholarships.

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

The Tiger & The Tiger Cub

Since 1954, a Clemson student has adorned the Tiger mascot suit to entertain the Clemson faithful. Joined in 1993 by The Tiger Cub, these furry creatures can be seen imitating game officials (which is now against the rules), signing autographs, getting their picture taken with dignitaries (President Reagan, President Bush, Olympic athletes, among others), shooting the cannon, or doing "Pushups" each time Clemson scores.

The 1994 season marked the 40th birthday for the lovable Tiger. The following year Stuart McWhorter ('88-'89) and his father Clayton established an endowment for the Tiger mascot.

Rob Lockard, a senior from Lexington Park, MD, will take "The Tiger" into its 44th season in 1998-99. Dan Wangerin will serve as "The Tiger Cub" which is in its sixth year of adding fanfare to a Clemson football Saturday. Wangerin is a junior from Simpsonville, SC.

The Last Word

by Tim Bourret

With all the talk about Mark McGwire, Sammy Sosa and the great home run chase of 1998, it seems appropriate during World Series season to discuss the greatest records in Clemson football history.

What would be considered the corresponding record for Clemson football, the most glamorous standards, or simply the oldest marks in the Clemson record book? Perhaps the benchmark should be time. Are the oldest records, the greatest records? Certainly records that stand the test of time grow in legendary status as the years progress.

Two Clemson records will never be broken. In 1968, Richie Luzzi returned a missed Georgia field goal 108 yards for a touchdown. Two years later, Don Kelley ran 102 yards with a pass interception against Duke. In 1983, the NCAA changed the way it documented returns made from your own end-zone. All returns, regardless of how deep the return man catches a ball in his own endzone, are measured from the goal line. In other words, you can't have a return of more than 100 yards anymore. Thus, Luzzi and Kelley will be in the Clemson record books forever.

As far as age of breakable records, the single game mark for touchdowns might be considered the greatest. That record is held by two Tigers who had five touchdowns in a game, but it hasn't been equaled since 1930. In 1917, Stumpy Banks (don't you love the names of those old-time players) scored five touchdowns in a 38-0 victory at Furman. Thirteen years later, Maxcey Welsh scored five times against Newberry in a 75-0 victory. Welsh actually scored 33 points that day because he scored on three extra points after his own touchdown and that remains the single game scoring record for a Tiger.

Raymond Priester's 1345 yards rushing in 1996 could be the Home Run record of Clemson football.

Another legendary single game record deals with total offense. Bobby Gage, one of Clemson's greatest all-around players regardless of era, had 374 yards of total offense against Auburn in a 34-18 victory. Gage gained 141 yards on the ground and 233 in the air.

The circumstances surrounding Clemson's single game freshman rushing record are extraordinary. Don King (not the boxing promoter) was the starting quarterback as a freshman in 1952. In those days the quarterback called the signals in the single wing offense, but the star of the offense was the tailback, who usually received a direct snap. Injuries to the Clemson offense the week prior to the Fordham game forced Frank Howard to move his freshman quarterback to tailback.

King practiced the position the week of the game, then rushed for 234 yards in a 12-12 tie. At the time, it was the greatest single game rushing performance in school history regardless of position, and it was not broken until Cliff Austin had 260 in 1982. Raymond Priester broke that mark in 1995 against Duke.

The following week, health returned to the Clemson backfield and King returned to quarterback where he stayed the rest of his career. Thus, King played one game at tailback, set the school rushing record, and never played the position the rest of his career.

One of the oldest single game records in Clemson history was broken this year, but it is not a record that we celebrated with great fanfare. Kevin Laird had 545 punting yards against Virginia Tech this year, breaking Banks McFadden's record of 504 punting yards against Tulane in 1939. It was quite a performance by Laird, but he had to punt 12 times, meaning the Clemson offense struggled that day.

In the spirit of the Home Run chase this year, we might consider single season records more glamorous than single game because they are attained over a longer period of time. The record setters didn't have just one hot day, they accomplished something of significance over a long period of time.

Clemson defensive end Adrian Dingle is in the process of chasing one of the more high profile records on the books, the single season sack record. With Clemson's history of great defensive players, players who have gone on to All-Pro NFL careers, this record has meaning. Heading into today's game he has six sacks, just four short of the Clemson single season record. The mark is held by Jim Stuckey (1979), William Perry (1984) and Michael Dean Perry (1987). All three played at least eight years in the NFL.

Of course defensive records lose a bit of their luster because they don't stand for the ages as much as offensive records. Records for tackles and sacks have been kept only since 1975. Statisticians on a national level didn't think to keep defensive records in the 1940s and 1950s. We will never know how many tackles and sacks "Dumb Dumb" Wyndham or Lou Cordileone had and that is a shame.

Probably the most glamorous offensive record on the Clemson books is the single season rushing record. With Clemson's history of success via rushing and the list of outstanding running backs over the years, Raymond Priester's 1345 yards rushing in 1996 might be the Home Run record of Clemson football. Unfortunately, it was not received with great fanfare because it was set in the dying moments of a close bowl game against LSU.

Priester had gained 1322 rushing yards as a sophomore in 1995 and broke his own record with 150 yards against LSU in the 1996 Peach Bowl. Clemson was driving for what it hoped would be a tying field goal when Priester broke the record so the game situation was more important than the record itself.

The Mark McGwire of Clemson football is actually Tony Horne. As Tommy West said at a recent press conference, "When you look at the 70 receptions Tony Horne had for us last year, that is like Mark McGwire hitting 70 homers in the Major Leagues." Tony even plays in St. Louis.
